REWEAVING™ YOUR ENERGY FIELDS

Our Human Body is surrounded by energy fields which are perceived as an aura. Some clairvoyants can see vague colors and light that forms these energy fields. Others can work within these fields to repair and reweave the holes left by present, or past lifetimes.

These are fields of subtle electrical impulses that proceed outwardly from the body. They are also available to plants, animals and all living things within creation, including crystals. These energy fields reach outwardly and inwardly as multiple of rings similar to a pebble being thrown into water causing ringlets of waves of energy.

These outer rings correspond to the body's many chakras and etheric fields that surround us. They have different colors and Vibrational Energy Fields that effect the physical, emotional, mental and spiritual health. As one goes throughout life trauma, experiences, illnesses, injuries and past lifetimes they begin to create blocks and breakages in these many fields leaving one vulnerable for disease to entire the body. Many warning signs have usually occurred prior to an illness entering ones body.

Reweaving™ is a technique that has been created by Dr. Kathy Gayoski which allows one to reweave the web like energy fields that surround the body. It combines many ancient techniques along with some newly discovered. This is a painless yet powerful technique, as are all energy techniques used at Eagle Feathers Healing Arts Garden.

The energy fields are cleansed, rewoven and strengthened by this profound healing technique. Reweaving™ should be done as often one changes their car's oil. For protection of one's mind, body, heart, soul and spirit to perform at their maximum level, with a more harmonious tone, while living in today's cultural atmosphere. Internal and external energy maintenance and proper fuel, i.e. food, water, air in the long run does help to maintain or repair one in disarray. However, people note at times nothing seems to cure the body. Do not choose to let anyone "guilt" you for not physically curing.

There is always healing that occurs within the subtle bodies that can assist in a way of life with grace. Sometimes ones way of health just is, yet the journey of one's spirit and soul can still soar and open up to thresholds of wisdom and healing, even if the physical appears not to. Healing is deeper than just the physical.

Crystal Pathways

“Working within the subtle energies is the most profound and sacred space to be. When I am there God/Goddess, All That Is, works in synergy with me and I know that together we work for the highest good of all concerned.” ©

Dr. Kathy Gayoski

Shaman's Gate

“Steven and Whitney Tully originally saw Kathy for meditation. Steve was diabetic, suffered neck and back pain, and eventually had surgery on his neck. The 42 year old veteran of Desert Storm found conventional medicine unable to stop his pain. “After my neck surgery, I couldn’t move,” remembers Steve. “Kathy lightly worked on the muscle and started getting some flow back in the area. She did neck massage and crystal work, and got things moving again.” Steve had some reservations about alternative care, but pain relief was his bottom line. “I didn’t care if I had to stand on my head to take the pain away. There’s a world of treatment out there aside from just going to a doctor and getting a pill. I have ruptured disks in my neck and back. Western medicine throws painkillers at it. They weren’t working.” Dr. Gayoski did for Steve what conventional treatments couldn’t. Gayoski’s knowledge base and services are far too exhaustive to list. Besides massage and crystals, she also uses medicinal essential oils, such as lavender and valor, on different parts of the body. “I can put them on your back and your feet. They can be taken internally or placed on your body. They go to the brain in seconds, releasing ‘energies’ and emotional patterns that are stuck.”
