Spiritual Counsel

Sacred Opening ©

Questioning our own spirituality is a sacred life changing time in one's life. Exploring the deepest part of ones soul finds the essence, the cornerstone, to the foundation of who we are.

Opening up one to explore the mystical mysteries of life and living will lead you home to blossom fully into the beautiful sacred Being of Light you are called to become.

Spiritual Counsel provides you the sacred space to vent and explore the new you following an event that has devastated and shattered your entire being and reason for living. (Following the death of her child a mother's life had lost all meaning. The beautiful altars that once dawned her home were now barren and only a rock lay there heavy and dead, just as she felt) Do you feel this way? If so, call and together we will explore and honor the darkness and allow you to become aware of the life that still lies in the dark beauty of your soul recesses.

Spiritual Counsel is for those who wish to live life fully, to explore the very meaning of being human when you can no longer go on alone. Sacred journeying down the path of the unknown, where will it lead? Is there life at the end of the path? Come and Journey with Rev. Dr. Kathy and find the path's doorways and all the infinite sacredness there is along the way. The pain and sorrow in your heart can be transformed into something of beauty once again. You will never be the same. Shatteredness can only become anew once you examine the fragile pieces. Connect the ones that still make sense and reassemble the fabric of your life into one that makes you feel whole again. True, there will always be holes in your fabric, but what a better place to see the stars then through the dark of night looking to see the lights in the sky where wishes are always honored as sacred and sometimes they do evolve.

Sacred Dark Bud ©

Sacred colors, a rainbow of hues, there in the front I stand black and closed.

Is that where I will stay? Can I open my tight dark bud for all to see?

The pain so intense, there is nothing that can console me in my shatteredness.

I am walking a sacred journey upon a path of unknowingness.

In time I may feel again, but for now I stand rigid and on guard.

I cannot go on, if I never feel again that will be just fine with me.

The sunlight upon my face burns, a river of tears, with nowhere to flow except down my cheeks, changing the course of history is all I know.

Shattered, I can see the sky, storm clouds and fogged in, I remain.

Someday the clouds may clear, perhaps a glimpse of the blue, but not for a while.

Please just walk with me, hold my hand. I pretend to be strong, but I am weak.

Explore my cavernous holes with me and perhaps together I will make it through the tunnels and turns.

Here in the darkness I am safe for the moment, perhaps a flickering candle will be my light for now.

Be with me in my time of need. Words are empty, yet your sacred presence it just enough to hold me

“When you get into a tight place and everything goes against you till it seems you could not hold on a minute longer, never give up then, for this is just the time and place when the tide will turn.”
